Subject: Questar Increase

I am writing to you concerning the recent request from Questar to raise the price of gas, as I remember it, 44%. I will not pretend to be an expert of economics, either nationally nor locally. Therefore I will not argue that such an increase can not be justified. However, as a father and husband starting a family, just barely moved into our first home, an increase of degree scares me- makes me wonder, if things continue as they are, how I can ever afford for my family. As I understand it, Questar already has raised thier prices within the last couple of years. I also remember the recent failure of thier automated readers, costing the company lots of money. It makes me wonder what really is going on behind the scenes- if this increase does not have something to do with re-couping that lost money. I would ask you to consider this matter carefully, because although this increase would make things more difficult for me, I woud survive (future increases may change that), but I know there are those that such an increase can really hurt. Thankyou for your time.
